May 28th, 1757. [Numb. 1193.]

The SOUTH-CAROLINA Gazette.

LONDON, January 27.

THE 30 transports late attached to the government's service, fell down the river yesterday. They have hammocks on board for 8000 seamen.

The Royal Sovereign, a first rate, is going to be cut down to an 84 gun ship.

The Terrible privateer of London, capt. Death, had taken a rich prize from Martinico, and was afterwards attacked by the Vengeance privateer of St. Maloes, of 22 guns and 250 men, and after an obstinate and bloody engagement, in which the French captain, 2 of his lieutenants, several volunteers, and many men on both sides were killed; and the privateer (being in a shattered condition) and her prize were both carried into St. Helen's also cast.

Three court martials are shortly expected to be held upon an admiral and two captains, for proper depositions being presented to a certain board for that purpose.

London, Jan. 30. We hear the king of Prussia, from all his veteran regiments, has selected particular brave and experienced men, which he has formed into one regiment of body guards, by the name of the regiment of death; they are all clothed in black, and have no ornament but a death's head embroidered on their caps.

Some days after the memorable action on the 10th of May last, before Port Mahon, the duke de Richelieu, 'tis said, wrote a letter to M. Voltaire, giving an account of the affair, and concluding with this remarkable observation, "That the preservation of the British squadron was owing to the prudent conduct of Mr. Byng." which letter the French poet has lately sent over to England.

We hear that a new ambassador will speedily be sent to Petersburg, in the room of Sir Charles Hanbury Williams, in order, if possible, to bring about a neutrality on the part of Russia, and thereby prevent a general war in Europe.

London, Feb. 1. By letters from Corsica we find, that the chiefs of the Malecontents have lately had a meeting at Corte, where they took a new oath to stand by one another against the republic of Genoa.

The Dove privateer, of Liverpool, of 12 guns, David Clotworthy commander, has taken and carried into Kinsale, the Victory, of 200 tons from Havre, upwards of 300 tons burthen, John Chevalier commander, bound to Hispaniola. Her cargo consists of 600 barrels of gun powder, and other warlike stores, and is computed to be worth 12,000 pounds.

It is said the earl of Cathcart will be sent ambassador, with the compliment of this court to the king of France.

London, Feb. 3. Vice admiral Smith, we hear, will shortly hoist the blue flag at the main top mast on board the Newark, which is preparing for the sea; and that a fleet under his command will sail speedily for the Mediterranean.

Several ships are getting ready for sea with uncommon expedition; but for what particular station or service is not known.

London, Feb. 5. This morning died the right hon. lord Walpole, one of the tellers of the exchequer. He will be succeeded by lord Waldegrave.

Thursday his majesty was pleased to promote the hon. col. Waldegrave, col. Bligh, and Edward Hopson, to the rank of major generals.

London, Feb. 8. Several of the buffes built for the herring fishery, that have been for some time past in Limehouse reach, are taken into the government's service, and are fitting out with all expedition in Deptford and other yards, in order to be made advice boats of, and to go up such navigable rivers in America, where deep bottomed ships cannot sail.

The French ship from the East-Indies, which has put into L'Orient, is the Northumberland man of war, of 50 guns, taken from us in the last war. She came from Bengal, and it is said has a cargo of 3 Indiamen on board, and to be worth ten millions of dollars. The war being about to works before she could make her port.

The forces, or soldiers, will fall between this and the middle of the ensuing month.

Gibraltar is put in such a posture of defence, and so well supported, as to put it above the power of our enemies to do more than keep up a blockade, which, with a fleet of ships to be stationed there, may do some important service in the Mediterranean the ensuing summer.

Yesterday arrived, that all the gentlemen of the Hampshire, being sent for to London, are set out for that purpose.

London, Feb. 10. Admiral Smith, who arrived at his house in Conduit-street on Sunday, set out last night for Portsmouth, to take on him the command of a fleet ready to sail.

His majesty has been pleased to make col. Cornwallis one of his aid de camps.

It is reported, that his royal highness the duke will be appointed to command the army of observation now forming in Germany; and that 6000 English troops will go with his royal highness's reward.

We hear that a courier is to be dispatched over from the court of Hungary, to borrow a sum of money of the noble people of that kingdom, on the security of Bavaria, but that it has been absolutely refused; which money, it is said, is to pay the subsidies to the Russians.

A great train is preparing at Woolwich and the Tower, among which there are some very large mortars.

London, Feb. 12. The 6 regiments that are going to be sent to America, are ordered to be at Cork the 28th instant at farthest.

On Tuesday last the royal regiment of artillery was under a review, in order to draught 300 men to go on the intended expedition; when the whole regiment turned out volunteers, out of which their commanding officer took the number wanted.

The remainder of the train of artillery will be embarked on monday and tuesday; and the transports have received orders to make the best of their way to Ireland, to receive the troops on board, where they will be joined by a squadron to take them under convoy.

The officers of the train embark next week, and so do several officers of the marching regiments going also to America.

Portsmouth, Feb. 11. The Ferret sloop is bound to North America with a packet, and carries over a captain and officers for a 20 gun ship, taken by the Enterprize and Harwich.

Yesterday the large garge of shipwrights took a task to finish the Lyon man of war of 40 guns, which they completed in 6 hours.

Admiral Holburne is indefatigable in dispatching the ships as fast as possible.—No boat is to be on shore after 6 o'clock; and if a man is taken up by the guard, he is to be brought before him the next morning to give an account what officer hath kept him ashore contrary to his orders, which gives great pleasure, as dispatch is the life of business.

London, Feb. 15. The clerks in the offices of the secretaries of state, and of the admiralty, are, by his majesty's command, making copies, or extracts, of all intelligence received from January 1, 1755, to August 1, 1756, concerning the equipment of a fleet at Toulon, or any other port, and of the march of troops to the sea coasts of France, and of the designs of the French on Minorca.

The

The clerks of the admiralty have alſo been ordered to prepare liſts of all the ſhips of war that were ready for ſea, with copies of their ſailing orders ſent to their commanders, from Auguſt 1, 1755, to April 30, 1756; and likewiſe a ſtate and condition of all the king's ſhips in the ſeveral ports of Great-Britain, when admiral Byng ſailed, and the number of men muſtered on board them; copies of all inſtructions given to admiral Byng, and of the letters received from him; an account of the diſpoſition of his majeſty's ſhips from October 1 1755, to April 6, 1756; an account of the number of men diſcharged from admiral Byng's ſquadron, after he was appointed to the command; and an account of the number of men that were taken from other ſhips to make up the complement of admiral Byng's fleet.

Orders have likewiſe been ſent to the war-office and the board of ordnance to prepare copies of all orders given from Auguſt 30, 1755, to April 30, 1756, to any of the officers belonging to the regiments at Minorca, to repair to that iſland; and an account of the number of effective men, and of the quantity of proviſions and military ſtores in fort St. Philip on the 8th of April 1756.

Many intercepting letters have been found dropt both at Paris, and Verſailles, importing, that tho' Damien has failed in his attempt, there are not wanting others of equal reſolution who are not diſcouraged, nor will be prevented in their deſign by his ill ſucceſs.

We hear that ſeveral more tranſports are ordered to be taken into the ſervice of the government.

Yeſterday 300 matroſſes ſet out for Portſmouth in order to go to America.

They work night and day in the tower in preparing military ſtores for embarkation, which makes it apprehended that ſome important expedition will ſoon be undertaken.

We are aſſured from undoubted authority, that there are two, if not three, grand expeditions upon the carpet, and which will ſpeedily be carried into execution.

We hear that ſome land officers will ſhortly be brought to trial before a court-martial, for not being with, or joining their corps in proper time, according to orders given for that purpoſe.

It is ſaid a few days will produce an enquiry of a very ſingular nature, which has been much talk'd of, and but little underſtood.

London, Feb 17. The following is ſaid to be an exact account of the troops which the empreſs will bring into the field this year againſt the king of Pruſſia

	Horſe	Foot
In Moravia	20,000	53 602

It is reported by ſome, who pretend to know what is on the anvil, that a bold puſh will be made this campaign; that 270 matroſſes are actually embarked at Woolwich for Ireland, in order to join 6000 regular troops, which are to be tranſported from that kingdom to America, under convoy of 16 ſail of the line, commanded by rear admiral Holbourn, who in a few days is to be promoted to the rank of vice-admiral. They alſo give out, that vice admiral Smith is to be ſent to the Mediterranean with a fleet of 20 ſail of the line of battle, and that a ſufficient train of artillery is already gone thither under convoy of the Berwick man of war; which fleet, they ſay, is deſtined firſt, to drive the French out of Corſica; and then the Corſicans (if we can get them into the humour to fir from home) are to aſſiſt us in recovering Minorca.

We hear that the lords of the admiralty have, on the application of the proprietors of Pennſylvania, ordered a ſhip to be ſtationed in the bay of Delaware.

The baggage of his royal highneſs the duke of Cumberland, and other officers, are kept in readineſs for embarkation upon very ſhort notice.

Portſmouth, Feb. 18 Admiral Boſcawen is very aſſiduous in getting the ſhips and tranſports ready for ſea, ſo hope nothing can ſuffer for want of care and expedition.

St. James's, Feb. 11 The king has appointed Thomas Pownall, Eſq; (lieutenant governor of the province of New Jerſey) to be governor of his majeſty's province of the Maſſachuſets-Bay in New-England, in the room of William Shirley, Eſq;

London, Feb. 19 Thurſday the right hon. William Pitt, Eſq; took his ſeat in the houſe of commons for Oakhampton in Devonſhire, which he was not able to do before on account of his illneſs.

Private letters from Prague give us ſuch an account of the armies on both ſides, as it may be proper to remember, becauſe a time may poſſibly come in which they will diſpute facts that are now ſaid to be inconteſtible. Marſhal Brown's army they ſay is compoſed of 73,000 effective men; that of the late prince Piccolomini of 70,000; marſhal Apraxin is to bring with him, at leaſt, 130,000 Ruſſians; and prince Charles of Lorrain will be at the head of near 100,000 more. On the other hand, his Pruſſian majeſty has 60 000 under his own command in Saxony; marſhal Schwerin's force does not exceed 55,000; and there are upwards of 30,000 in Pomerania, and the reſt of the dominions of the houſe of Brandenburgh.

Yeſterday his majeſty ſent a meſſage to the hon. houſe of commons.

It is ſaid that an army of French troops are actually marched into Weſtphalia

Several ſchemes are under conſideration for raiſing the neceſſary ſupplies with the leaſt burthen to the public poſſible; ſome of which will ſhortly, it is ſaid, be carried into execution.

Another train is ordered to be prepared, ſo as to be ready for ſervice on the ſhorteſt notice.

London, Feb 22. It is ſaid, that the king of Pruſſia, in conſideration of a ſubſidy of 200,000 l. engages to maintain an army of 163,000 men in the field, and another of 50 000 men always ready to recruit the army in the field

We hear the Highland battalions raiſed in Scotland are to ſail from thence for Ireland, to embark there for America with the reſt of the forces.

London, Feb. 24. The meſſage delivered by the king laſt thurſday morning to Mr. ſecretary Pitt, to be by him preſented to the hon. houſe of commons, was as followeth:

GEORGE R.

IT is always with reluctance that his majeſty aſks any extraordinary ſupply of his people; but as the united counſels and formidable preparations of France, and her allies, threaten, with the moſt alarming conſequences, Europe in general; and as thoſe moſt unjuſt and vindictive deſigns are particularly and immediately bent againſt his majeſty's electoral dominions and thoſe of his good ally the king of Pruſſia. his majeſty confides in the experienced zeal and affection of his faithful commons that they will chearfully aſſiſt him in forming and maintaining an army of obſervation for the juſt and neceſſary defence and preſervation thereof, and enable his majeſty to fulfil his engagements with the king of Pruſſia, for the ſecurity of the empire, againſt the irruptions of foreign armies, and for the ſupport of the common cauſe.

Lord Charles Hay's regiment is to embark on monday next for North-America.

We are aſſured from good authority, that no leſs than 23 privateers put to ſea from Havre laſt week.

Yeſterday

Yesterday a very extraordinary motion was made in a certain assembly, which was recalled almost as soon as mentioned, it being disagreeable to the sentiments of the whole body.

London, Feb. 26. Yesterday major general Hopson set out from his house in St. James's street, to embark for America.

It is said, that admiral Holbourn will sail on the 10th of March, with 16 sail of the line for Cork, in order to proceed to North-America.

We hear the transports with 240 bombardiers and matrosses, are sailed for the Downs from Woolwich.

It is reported that the duke of Richmond and lord How are going volunteers to North America.

This morning 130 cool. sterling, in silver coin, set out for Portsmouth, in 6 waggons guarded, to be embarked on board his majesty's ship Newark bound for America, for the use of the forces there.

The right. hon. the house of peers on monday last ordered an address to be presented to his majesty, in answer to his most gracious message of yesterday night, assuring him that they would stand by him with their lives and fortunes.

London, Feb. 26. It is computed, that, during the present war, 55 French privateers have been taken and brought into our ports; and it is said the number of our privateers taken does not exceed 6. The French have now out, according to calculation, 200 privateers.

It is positively asserted, that a personage too great to be named, but who is sufficiently described by a character as distinguished for honesty, hereditary bravery, and a sovereign love of those qualities in others, declared, that he wished the names of all the principal movers for favour, or screening to a certain convict, had their names published in the common news papers for the information of the whole nation.

His majesty has been pleased to appoint John Forbes, Esq; lieutenant-colonel of the royal North British dragoons (commonly called the Grays) to be colonel of the 17th regiment of foot, lately commanded by major general Richbell, and which is under orders to embark from Cork, with 6 other regiments, for North America.

We hear that the execution of admiral Byng is put off for about a month; and that the court martial will be made to reveal their reasons and motives for finding him guilty of part of the 12th article of war.

This day the hon house of commons sat on a fresh motion that has been made concerning admiral Byng; and 'tis reported his execution will be suspended for some days.

By a clause in the militia bill, the men are to learn the exercise every other monday, and not on sunday in the afternoon, as was at first intended.

SAVANNAH, (in Georgia), May 3.

Our good Governor gives daily Proofs of Zeal for the Welfare of his Government, and for promoting Amity and Friendship amongst its Inhabitants, in which he is likely to succeed, as all Party-Spirits seem to have left the Province with its An—rs.—Some Days ago, a few of the neighbouring Chickasaws from Augusta, and a hunting Party of the Lower-Creeks (with their Wives and Children) that have been some Time from their Nation, waited on the Governor in a very friendly Way, welcomed him to his Government, accepted of War Commissions with a Drum and Colours, and assured him that they would brighten the Chain with their Friends the English, and make the Path bloody with their Enemies the French and their Indians.

CHARLES-TOWN, May 19.

Letters from Barbados, dated the 19th ult. inform us, that the Surprize Man of War, has lately carried in there a French Ship of 16 Guns from Nantz for Cape-François, valued at £. 12,000. which she took after a short Dispute, wherein the French Captain was killed: That 3 French Privateers had lately been brought in there by English Privateers; one of them the Schooner which was taken from Capt. William Darrel, in his Passage from hence for Barbadoes, which Capt. Rose (formerly of North Carolina, but now Commander of a Barbados Privateer) cut out of Grande-Terre in Martinique, under the Cannon of the Fort (by which his Brother who was his 2d Lieutenant was killed), together with a large Snow (her Prize) from Ireland for Antigua, having on board 1000 Barrels of Provisions: That a French Dogger was also taken and carried in there by two other Privateers, valued at £. 6000: That Admiral Frankland's whole Squadron was out on a Cruize: That Capt. Walter Stirling was appointed Commander of the Sutherland Man of War; and Lieut. Middleton (who was here with Capt. Homer) of the Speaker Brigg in Sterling's Stead: That on the 3d of April, they had beat to Arms throughout the Island, upon the Appearance of 66 sail of Ships to Windward, which afterwards proved to be a Fleet from Ireland, under Convoy of the Rochuck and Lively Men of War (the former of which is commanded by Capt. Hamond), who stay'd only 4 Days, and leaving 9 Ships there, proceeded for Antigua and Jamaica: And that Admiral Cotes was hourly expected with 16 Ships of the Line, and 100 Merchantmen from England under Convoy.

Capt. Dickinson (by whom the above Advices came) informs us farther, that a Brigg was arrived at Barbados from the Coast of Africa, which had narrowly escaped being taken by a French Squadron of 2 74 Gun Ships, 1 60 Gun Ship, and 2 Frigates, who had cut off most of our Traders upon the Coast of Guiney: And that the said Brigt. had on board 4 of the English Captains that had been taken by them.

On Saturday put back, which sailed from this Port a Week before. The Snow Elizabeth, Colin Buchanan Master, bound for London having sprung a Leak.

On Monday last arrived here Capt. Bound from Poole, who informs us, that he left Spithead the 10th of March, with the West India Fleet, under Convoy of Admiral Cotes in His Majesty's Ship the Marlborough of 80 Guns, with a 40 and a 20 Gun Ship, which he parted from off Lisbon: That the same Day sailed from Spithead, the Arundel and Merlin Men of War, bound hither, with Captains Cutting and Ball's Ships from London under Convoy: That Admiral Saunders also sailed, with a few Men of War and other Ships, for the East Indies: And, that in his Passage, he saw 5 large Men of War in the Bay of Biscay, one of which had a white Flag at the Mizen top-mast, which he supposed to be Admiral Norris's Squadron.

The Association of Tradesmen, &c. &c. in London, of the Sir Name of SMITH, having equipped an armed Ship of War to cruize upon the common Enemy, and armed and manned her as His Majesty's 20 Gun Ships are; we hear is likely to produce an Association among the Gentlemen of the same Name in this Province, who are both numerous and wealthy; and that they will soon fit out a good Vessel.

ADVERTISEMENTS.

ON monday the 6th of June next will be sold, at public vendue, at Mesick's corner, all the remaining goods on hand belonging to Neufvilles and Anderson, consisting of broad and negro cloths, felling axes, nail's, locks, hinges, iron pots, bar iron, bullets, shot, cambricks, muslins, bed bunts, china and earthen ware, with many other articles too tedious to mention. SUPPLEMENT To
The SOUTH-CAROLINA Gazette.
[Numb. 1193.] MAY 26th, 1757.

PARIS, February 18

IN the ſeveral examinations which Damien has undergone, one ſtill ſees an undefinable being; a hot brain, abounding with fire and ſmoke; a matchleſs front, who deliberately falls into contradictions, deſtroying in the morning what he has ſaid the preceding evening; an inſolent fellow, who talks well enough, but without any decorum; a villain, who ſometimes betrays a regret for what he has done, but never diſcovers any remorſe; a madman, who ſometimes affects a devotion bordering on fanaticiſm, and ſometimes makes a parade of the moſt ſhocking depravity; an enigmatical prater, who in certain moments lets one perceive that he has accomplices, and ſtill perſiſts in ſaying he has none. We ſhould never have done, if we attempted to recite all the inconſiſtencies and contradictions that are found in the character and ſpeech of this monſter. In his preſent ſituation, he may dare to ſay any thing; and accordingly, he lets his tongue run with the moſt malicious indiſcretion, talking at random of every thing he may have ſeen or heard, fathering upon the perſons in whoſe ſervice he has been, what diſcourſe he pleaſes, and giving uneaſineſs to every body that has the misfortune to be known by him, becauſe he can charge and ſend for them, merely for the pleaſure of making them uneaſy.

Breſt, Feb 1. Orders are come down from court to equip with all poſſible diligence, two ſhips of 80 guns, ſix of 74, two of 70, eight of 64, four of 50, one of 40, one of 36, and two of 30 guns. Theſe 26 men of war will be divided into ſeveral ſquadrons.

London, Feb 24. The French king, in his letter to the dutcheſs of Parma, on his recovery from the late accident, expreſſes himſelf in the following manner; "The wound of my body is healed; but ſo deep a wound is left on my mind, that I would willingly part with life to efface ſo great a blot from the annals of my reign."

CHARLES-TOWN, May 20.

GOD SAVE THE KING.

RATISBON, January 24.

BY the resolution taken by the Diet the 17th instant, the colleges of the empire acknowledge the justice of the complaints made to them by the emperor and the empress queen, concerning the king of Prussia's invasion of Saxony and Bohemia: They approve of the conduct of the emperor on this occasion, as perfectly consistent with the laws and constitutions of the empire; and acquiesce in making use of proper means to reinstate the king of Poland in his possessions, beſt ſtyle, and to procure, both for his Polish majeſty and the empreſs queen, all the ſatisfaction they have a right to expect. At the ſame time the colleges agreed, that all the circles ſhould ſet on foot their contingents, augmented to treble the uſual number, in ſupport of their above mentioned reſolution. The troops of the circles united together, upon the footing of a treble augmentation, will form an army of above 100 000 men.

Berlin, January 20. An expreſs is gone to the king with the reſult of the deliberation held the 10th inſtant by the general diet of the empire, concerning the aſſiſtance to be given to the empreſs queen and the king of Poland; but a deciſive event may probably happen before the ſuccours of the empire are aſſembled.

Berlin, Jan 25. Mr. Mitchel, miniſter from the king of Great Britain, has received the diſpatches he expected from London, which confirm his Britannic majeſty's diſpoſition for the reſtoration of peace, and that he is taking the neceſſary ſteps to bring matters to a favourable iſſue. Some diſpatches are likewiſe gone to Warſaw for count de Stormont, the Britiſh miniſter to the king of Poland, relative to the affairs of Saxony, which his Britannic majeſty has particularly in view. He would be extremely glad to find means to extricate that country from its preſent difficulties, and ſome other powers who are not immediately engaged in them, have been ſolicited to concur in preventing the war from becoming general in Germany.

Paris, Feb 4. The diſgrace of two of the king's chief miniſters is the principal ſubject of diſcourſe both at court and in the city; the firſt is M de Machault, to whom the count de St. Florentin went on tueſday morning to demand the ſeals in the name of his majeſty, and at the ſame time delivered him a letter de cachet, which baniſhed him to his eſtate in Normandy. The other is count d'Argenſon, miniſter of war, who about the ſame time received a letter de cachet, which baniſhed him to his eſtate in Anjou. The motives of this diſgrace people do not yet penetrate. His majeſty has diſpoſed of the place of miniſter of the marine, in favour of M Rouille; that of miniſter of foreign affairs, to the abbé count de Bernis; and that of miniſter of war to the marquis de Paulney, who had the reverſion of it; but the duke de Belle Iſle will occupy that poſt 'till M de Paulney ſhall be in a condition to exerciſe the functions of it. It is not ſaid for whom the ſeals are deſtined.

Petersburg, Jan 15. The empreſs has at length formerly acceded to the treaty of alliance concluded laſt year between the courts of Vienna and Verſailles.

Paris, Feb. 7. It is not yet decided who ſhall ſucceed the two exil'd miniſters, there being no foundation for the accounts that have been publiſhed of the appointment of the duke de Belle-Iſle, the count de Bernis, and M. Rouille. All that is certainly known is, that the count de St. Florentin has that ſhare of count de Argenſon's department that goes under the denomination of the grand police of the kingdom, he having already given audiences relative thereto.

Copy of the king's letter de cachet wrote to M. de Machault, dated Feb 1.

'Though I am ſatisfied with your integrity, as well 'as the uprightneſs of your intentions, the preſent 'circumſtances of affairs oblige me to demand the 'reſignation of your employ as ſecretary of ſtate for 'the Navy. You may always reſt aſſured of my 'protection and friendſhip. If you have any favour 'to aſk for your children, you may at any time re'queſt it. In the mean while 'tis neceſſary for you 'to ſtay ſome time at Arnouville. Sign'd Louis.

'P S Your penſion of 20,000 livres as miniſter, 'and the honour of the cuſtody of the ſeals, will be 'continued by me to you.'

Copy of the letter ſent the ſame day to the count d'Argenſon.

'Monſ. d'Argenſon, Having no farther occaſion 'for your ſervice, I demand your reſignation of the 'office of ſecretary at war, as alſo of your other employments; and that you retire to your eſtate of 'Ome. Sign'd Louis.

M de Lally, who is to command the troops that are to be ſent to America, is ſet out for Breſt, in order to embark with them.

Paris, Feb. 11. We learn from Toulon, that the ſquadron of M de la Clue ſailed on the 27th of laſt month; he carries a million in ready money for payment of the garriſon at Mahon, and is to proceed from thence to Malta. M. de Beaufremont ſailed on the 30th for St. Domingo, with 4 ſhips of the line and 4 frigates. The firſt diviſion of the ſquadron from Port l'Orient is actually ſailed; the ſecond is ſtill in port.

Vienna, Feb 5. A definitive anſwer has been given to the Britiſh miniſter to this effect: That as ſoon as any expedient can be found to indemnify the empreſs queen for the expences of the war, the king of Poland, and the reſt of her allies, for the injuries they have received, and proper guaranties for the ſecurity of their dominions in time to come, they ſhould find her imperial majeſty inclined to treat.

Toulon Jan 30. The ſquadron of M de la Clue, conſiſting of 5 men of war and a frigate, ſailed laſt thurſday, but by a violent ſtorm was obliged to caſt anchor at the iſles of Hieres. The ſtorm, which did not laſt long, being over, M. de la Clue was preparing to ſail again, when an order came from court for his fleet to put back, to take in proviſions for 7 months, and wait for farther orders, which occaſions great ſpeculation. As it was known that M. de la Clue muſt anchor at the iſlands Hieres, a courier was ſent by land, and two veſſels were likewiſe diſpatched to overtake him in caſe he ſhould have been put to ſea.

Paris, Feb 11. The king has granted the count d'Argenſon 48 000 livres, and M de Machault 24 000 a year livres penſion.

Utrecht, Feb. 13. Private letters from Germany bring advice of propoſitions being made to ſeveral courts of Germany for bringing about a reconciliation with reſpect to Saxony; and add, that the ſucceſs of the overtures made for this purpoſe are to be determined before the beginning of March, which is the time fixed for the Pruſſian army to take the field.

Some private letters from Vienna ſwell the number of troops that are to act againſt the Pruſſians next campaign to almoſt 300 000. Theſe letters likewiſe intimate, that prince Charles of Lorain will command her imperial majeſty's forces in chief; that the Ruſſians will act under field marſhal Apraxin; and that the troops of the circles, and thoſe furniſhed by the princes of Germany, will be commanded by a field-marſhal of the empire. It appears clearly from this ſyſtem, that it is taken for granted the war cannot ſubſiſt longer than one campaign, and that a great part of theſe forces are to take their winter-quarters in an enemy's country.

Paris, Feb. 18. The ſeals ſtill lie on the table in the king's cabinet, and are of late grown ſo heavy that nobody cares to lift them. It is ſaid that the count de Clermont, a prince of the blood, will command the army that is to march into Weſtphalia.

LONDON, February 26.

They write from Paris, that according to the beſt judgment that can be formed, two French armies are like to enter into the empire, one in quality of Auxiliaries, which will certainly be commanded by M. d'Eſtrées, and which, as ſoon as the ſeaſon will permit, is to take the direct route for Bohemia. The other, conſiſting of 53 battalions and 32 ſquadrons, making in the whole about 50 000 men, and in which the duke of Orleans, and other princes of the blood, are to ſerve, will enter into Weſtphalia, in order to make a diverſion in favour of the king of Poland. As to civil affairs in that kingdom, they ſeem to be in the utmoſt confuſion. The Parliament cannot make Damiens ſpeak a ſingle word, and the king can find no body that will take the ſeals, the ſecret having tranſpired that the late keeper loſt his employment for refuſing to put them to ſome inſtruments of a very diſagreeable nature.

After which the General Aſſembly adjourned to the Firſt Tueſday in October next; but it is thought they will have Occaſion to meet much ſooner.

The ſame Evening arrived an Expreſs from Fort Loudoun, with Advice that ſeveral Parties of Cherokees are gone out to War ſince the Little Carpenter's Return to his Country, upon the Report he made of the Reception and Treatment he had met with here in February laſt; and that he was even gone out himſelf with 50 Men: So happy an Iſſue has our preſent Governor's Negociations had with him and the other Indians that accompanied him: That all the Out Work of that Fort was finiſhed, the Platforms laying for the Cannon, and the Barracks for the Soldiers building: And, that Lieut. Wood of Capt. Poſtell's Company of Provincials, had diſappeared, (and is the Perſon ſuppoſed to have forged ſome L. 50 Certificates lately with a Pen) — Some imagine he has taken the Route to Virginia, of which Province he is a Native, while moſt ſuſpect, that he will endeavour to get to the Alabama Fort; but, as (we are informed) an Expreſs has been diſpatched to the commanding Officer at Fort Moore, and it is ſuppoſed another is ſent from thence to Mr. Pepper, our Agent in the Creek Nation, with Notice of this Suſpicion, 'tis very probable, he may be prevented travelling ſo far; and if he ſhou'd go to Virginia or Georgia, we hope, this Account will procure him what is due to his Merit.

The latest Intelligence we have from Cape Francois, is, that the French have 7 Ships of the Line there, beſides the Greenwich, and 5 at Martinique which are to be joined by 3 more that were hourly expected from the Coaſt of Guiney, beſides Frigates, &c.

We hear, that moſt of the French Ships for ſome Time paſt expected at the Cape and Miſſiſippi with Troops, were built on purpoſe for that Service, (mount from 30 to 40 Guns on one Deck, and do not draw 14 Feet Water) and ſo as they may ſerve for Cruizers, or other Occaſions, after they arrive in America.

A Turtler on the Coaſt of Florida, ſaw about 4 Weeks ago, 15 Sail of French Merchant-Ships in the Gulph, homeward bound.

Laſt Night came the agreeable News of the Arrival of the Juno, Capt Lathie, from London, at Georgia, with a great Quantity of Indian Preſents, Arms, and other warlike Stores on board for that Government. This Ship came out under Convoy of the Arundel and Merlin Men of War, with Captains Ball and Carteret for this Port; but we cannot yet learn where they parted with them

'Tis reported, that between 2 and 300 Creek Indians are expected down ſoon, on a complimentary Viſit to our Governor and ſome Matters of more Importance; which will give great Pleaſure, as (except a few Meſſengers) none of them have been here for ſome Years.

The Ship Live Oak, of this Port, from Jamaica for London, is juſt put in here, Capt. White, and his Mate, being both dead
